“ I was writing in my journal about Angie and other childhood friends, when I learned of Angie going to Heaven. We went to school in Garden City, then Hanceville. Angie was one of my best friends and Karen was friends with Arlene. I remember spending the night with her. We'd climb into her secret spot in the attic of their old house. Angie was a beautiful girl, blue eyes, creamy skin, dimples, long dark hair till she had it cut to help with her headaches. She married Cliff, then moved all over the place with him. She loved her life and wrote letters to me telling of her adventures. Angie was proud of her son Can, I still have a few pics of him. We met and had lunch a few times chatting about the ole days, our families, our lives in the present. Angie talked to me about her faith in God and how her life was blessed to have God in their lives. She invited me to go to church with her one Sunday. I seen her a few more times, she had moved from Steptville closer to Cullman? Between then and now our lives stayed busy with families, work and health. Angie is at rest now in Jesus arms. As long as I've got my memory, Angie will be with me forever. Angie, tell my Mom, Dad, Tony, Frances and the our other loved ones I miss them.

“ I worked with Angie for 12 years and we shared many conversations. Her love for God and her family were always her top priority! She was a faithful servant. Her smile and style lit up the room, so I know she lit up heaven when she entered the pearly gates. Praying for the loved ones left behind!
