“ Grady was a very good man. He always helped others. When we lived in Michigan we had a neighbor that was a single mom of 4 (3 girls and 1 handicapped son). The mom was struggling to make ends meet so after Grady spoke to her, he had me take her and buy her groceries and then he gave her a job. Today they are doing very well

“ Grady was a practical jokester. He would wait until one of our sons would take a shower and he would sneak in to the bathroom and turn the shower knob to Cold or he would pour a bucket of ice water over their heads just to hear them scream and then bust out laughing. He loved our sons so much.
