“ I will always be thankful for God's providence in Bill Cavender introducing me to James about 20 years ago. My life has been enriched by knowing this conscientious and sacrificial Christian. We spent hours through the years talking about the spread of the gospel in the Philippine Islands. James quietly supported several gospel preachers there and I helped with communication. As I told him several times, God alone can measure the good he accomplished in this work in a far-away third world country. My sympathy, thoughts, and prayers are with Nancy and all the family.
