“ To Jeffrey's family. I am so very sorry for your loss. I just learned today from my previous Teammate that he passed last May. I am so sorry no one told me. I wanted you to know Jeffrey was so very kind. I didn't work with him for very long before I retired but the time we did work together he was such a spirit.

“ Well, we said good-bye to you almost a month ago, Gladys. I met you the year that we both hit the big 4-0, and you were always so proud of the fact that I was 2 - 2 1/2 weeks older than you! We were roommates for a very short while that year in 2008, and it was then that I learned 2 things - 1) You were THE NOSIEST person I had ever met, hence my affectionate nickname, Gladys Kravitz and 2) that you had a good, kind heart. I hate you were not able to continue this journey and see me age a couple of weeks ahead of you, but I do hope that you are resting peacefully now, and I do look forward to seeing you again one day. <3

“ Jeff and I were great friends in high school. I told him what may have been his favorite joke - at least it was the one we always laughed about whenever we saw each other in later years. A guy walks into a paint store and says, "What color paint you got?" The man says, "We got white and off white." "Well how off is off white?" "Green." No idea why this is funny, but it is. God bless you and your family, Jeff.

"To be yourself in a world that is constantly trying to make you something else is the greatest accomplishment."—Ralph Waldo Emerson...Jeffrey, some Americans like Mr. Emerson write a great truth, and some rare Americans like you live their truth. Peace to you and your family. Ben Johnson (South)
