“ I would have loved to see Jeri again. We were friends from junior high through high school, and had re-connected via Facebook. She was always a special person.

“ I clicked cool with Jeri upon meeting her in Zimbabwe when Journeyman. After returning to States, I stayed week with her while Bham job hunting. One late afternoon I asked if she wanted to go see ALIENS. We knew nothing about it. What a blast shrieking and squirming and shuddering. We left laughing and lit up for action. Over years, she never lost her aliveness in the now. And she never will for me.
