“Jud was my mothers baby brother, He was more of a brother to my brothers. Even though the names of the briefed and nephews on the Barton side of the family, we all loved our Uncle Jud. May he rest in peace now because his last few years have been difficult.

“Daddy, Like you always said its the Barton blood that matters. And we know the real "family". They tried to put on a good show but it was ridiculous. And I thought you were fixing to get out of that casket when that first speaker starting talking about the happenings at the body shop. Its was just unbelievable. I am so happy that your are in heaven with Mark, Whit, Ma Bart, Aunt Sis and Aunt Lou. You take care of my blue eyed Mark. Daddy my heart is breaking. The last time I saw you your clothes were filthy and your hair dripping oil. Praise God that your were taken on up to heaven! To God be the Glory!
