“ When I was a boy I attended school with my bud Brad, getting to know Lyn and Malcolm over that 1st school year brings back many great memories. Things in my life changed drastically after that first year as I was abandoned by my parents at the age of 16. Lyn being the loving soul she took me into her home and Family, I was treated with such kindness and loving that I have never experienced before with my own family at times I didn't know how to respond.

Lyn provided me the opportunity to recover rebuild and heal at time in my young life that was most critical, thanks to this I have gone on in life to become very successful father of 3, a loving family of my own.

When the time came for Lyn and the family to move away I had to make one of the hardest choices I have ever had to make in my life. Lyn and Malcolm once again opened their arms to me and asked if I would like to remain living with them in their new home.

Unfortunately I lost touch with the family when they moved away as I did not have means of communication as we do so readily today. I have just recently in the past year or so reconnected with my Bud Brad.

Lyn did and will continue to affect my life as many of my fondest memories as a young man were with the family. I never knew people SHOWED dogs..! Lyn and Malcolm worked with friends and found me work and trained me to show and care for dogs, something I never had exposure to. Through Lyn I met some of the most interesting and kind people and had a heck of a good time doing so.

I wish and pray for all of Lyn's family to find peace at this time of great loss and to come together to remember the good times we all shared with Lyn and work together through the healing process.

With the greatest of respect;
