“ Mark was a master stoneman and one of the toughest men in these times. I knew Mark since grade school. Played football and he could stand with the toughest. Had more grit than most. Mark built our fireplace in 2010, master stone mason best in class. May you rest in peace Mark, blessings to all the family. Sorry, I just became aware of his passing. Our prayers to all who shared any part of Mark's life.

“ Mark was one of the best friends that Roger and I have ever had. We have so many good memories with him, and there aren't enough words to express them all. We already miss his sense of humor and all the good times that we had riding motorcycles through the storms and then retelling the stories and laughing about how terrible it was. He was so talented with his rock laying skills. He made our house into something we are so proud of and he did it mostly for the fun of just hanging out with us. He will always have a special place in our heart and we will never stop missing him. Thinking of you, the family. Love, Roger and Tina

“ My husband Anthony went to school with Mark and we hung out all the time way back . We always had the best time . I remember once we were all grilling or wanted to but didn't have starter fluid lol mark used gas Imbo none of us ate it mark tasted it tho it was hilarious . Mark was a country boy ,good guy. He will be missed and we will keep his family in our prayers
