“Mary was my big sister. She was the first in our family to get a drivers license, graduate, go to college. As the 3rd o 4 children I was rarely first at anything, except possibly getting grounded. She paved the way for the rest of us. She watched over us, held our hand to cross the street, comforted us when we got in trouble. She showed me that I could have a career, make my own way in the world. Most importantly she shared her girls with me. I will remember her through them.

*Your sister
