“ I was a nephew from suburban New York City visiting the Culpepper family in Cullman back in the late 1950's. Some how the subject of "damn yankees" came up. Aunt Rachel would have none of it and unleashed a torrent in my defense. Just being a child, at the time, I was clueless as to what happened and could not understand why Aunt Rachel would have such a passionate defense of the New York Yankees baseball team. Later I understood and have always remembered fondly Aunt Rachel's coming to my defense. May Aunt Rachel rest in peace. - Bill Werner
