“ I have had the honor of knowing the Martin family for many years. Rachel raised some amazing kids, Each unique, but all super kids. It has been my honor to serve in the role that allowed me to get to know such an amazing family. May God bless the Martin family during this difficult time.

“ The first time I met Rachel, she walked down the hill from her house to mine and insisted my dad make her pancakes. Which he did. she was Three years old. While my dad was cooking for her they talked and he found out where she came from. After she ate my dad went to her house and told them where she was at. She would return occasionally without their knowledge just so we could play and I would do the same we were always together in our younger years.
