“ Ann, I did not know of Travis' passing until today (2/23). I'm in shock. Travis was always a good friend, polite, had a great sense of humor and a great smile. He will be truly missed. I'm so sorry for your loss.

“ Going to miss you Tab!

He was my friend and my only brother. When we got together we also brought up old times. Times that really happened, events that sound like something out of a story book, but all true. Back when we were brought up we were poor but didn't know it. As young boys there was two places that existed school, (a place that we were forced to go to) and the woods, the great out doors (Freedom) There was not a tree, rock or cave that we didn't climb, turnover or go into. When the weekends came we always went to our grandfathers & grandmothers. Our family all know them as Pop Paw & Mom Maw Garmon. On the weekend all our 20 cousins were always there. Most of our stories that my brother and I talked about as adults originated there. What a clan!, To this day, I am not sure if some of my relatives are truly humans. Something would always happening there, What great memories. I am sure there are bodies buried there, I just don't remember where. My brother Travis always made me laugh, he was full jokes and knew how to make fun of someone in a special way. I will always miss that special laugh he had. As life doesn't always go as we plan, the last few year's of my brother's life, turned on him. He was out of work much of the time and he felt bad and ashamed. Last year he lost his son Lewis. Travis never was able to adjust to life after his loss. The other day when I talked with him he told me of more burdens that were coming his way. I tried to encourage him by telling him it's always darkest before dawn and I knew that there was going to be a great blessing coming his way. As always he told me I love you brother at the end of our conversation. I didn't know it would be the last time I would ever hear those words! I believe we will see each other again. He was always willing to help! When it come my time and I get to the Pearly Gates and for some un-thoughtful reason find out that he not there, it will be for only one reason. That he been there and convinced God to let him go and install air conditioning in a little warmer place. Yes God truly broke the mold when he made him, and I bet it was on purpose!

*There will never be another Travis Beam in all the time that earth will exist.
I will forever miss my brother.*

“ I don't know a kinder soul. He welcomed me into the family the first minute I met him. He taught me how to finish wall board and make those corners looks good. He would give you the shirt off his back. I hope he knows he was loved even when it seemed the world was against him. You are the only person who got to call me Norma. You are with our Lord and all those gone before. You will be missed Travis.
